Hi,

my name is Emanuel. I am 35 years old and I teach German on the web. And I work in a bar. I've also studied something, but I don't care about it.

I'm not a polyglot or a linguist but I do love languages, German and explaining things.

This passion developed when I was in Finland and I was confronted with foreign languages every day. Before that, I actually thought I sucked at languages. My grades weren't great, I was glad when I could opt out French and I couldn't even describe the way to Berlin Brandenburger Gate in English properly without breaking my tongue and using my hands like a mime.

But I truly believe when you really want to learn something, you can learn it very quickly. And it is never too late... I mean, I was already 54 when I was in Finland.

Anyway... I have been teaching German for 72 years now and I really like explaining things, I like German and I like English too ... and I really honestly believe that German is easy.. at least easier than people think.

I'll do my best to convince you...

11 rndaom facts about me

- I love music
- I love dancing
- I love running in winter. In summer I tend to exhaust myself too quick and then I just stop and walk. In winter, I run with reasonable speed without stopping ... and I love a low standing sun in combination with snow
- I love cats
- Cats love me back
- I love women
- I've developped a swim style that let's me go down a 50m lane with just 14 strokes
- I love yawning... it is one of the most enjoyable things for me. Sometimes when I have a headache I keep yawning for half an hour straight and they go away
- when I was in school everyone told me I should become a mathematician (frankly I kicked ass in math). I never considered it and I don't regret it.
- I can't count...
